THE LAW TRIUMPHED.

It Don't Pay to Fool With the Marca Police Force.

It don't pay to fool with the police force of Marca. It is loaded and when roughly stirred up around the edges is likely to give the offender the impression that he has been fooling around the business edge of a buzz-saw. The force consists of one man who unites in his own person the functions of chief of police, night captain, sergeant and patrolman To properly cover the ground and care for all the duties of the situation causes the force to keep a perpetual move on itself, and yet it finds time to attend to little side affairs which may come its way.

Yesterday a gentleman of the Dusty Rhodes stripe visited Marca. He called on several business men and requested small contributions in cash. In several cases he was gently but kindly repulsed, and with each rebuff his angry passions waxed to a white heat and he expressed his opinion of Marca in terms never heard outside of the tenderloin district. The police force was summoned and promptly appeared on the scene. The tramp was requested to desist but refused, incidentally volunteering the statement that "he could knock h—ll out of the Marca police force without getting up an appetite for breakfast." Just about that time the two contending force mixed. The police force got a black eye, and the tramp received several taps from a billy administered in a scientific manner.

The law triumphed, and to-day the tramp was sentenced to forty days in the city bastile, on a light and airy diet made up of bread and water.

Roland Reed Tuesday.

Roland Reed, a favorite actor, brings his new comedy and said to be the best success he has ever had, to the Opera House Tuesday evening, Oct. 8. The piece is a satire and is called "The Politician" It is the joint work of the late David D. Lloyd and Sydney Rosenfield. Mr Reed of course plays the leading character, and as General Josiah Limber of Illinois, stampeder of conventions, groom of dark horses, carpet bagger, and professional politician, he is said to have created a great comedy role. The play abounds with amusing scenes and situations, and the dialogue is particularly bright and interesting.

"Charley's Aunt."

At the Grand on Friday evening, Oct 4th, "Charley's Aunt" will be presented in this city. It is one of the funniest farce comedies ever written and has more enthusiastic plaudits wherever given. The plot turns on the escapade of a couple of college students who give a dinner in their scholastic apartment to a couple of young ladies at which the aged aunt of one of the men is expected to act as chaperone. She fails to arrive and a smooth-faced student comrade is dressed up as a starting point springs a great series of laughable situations.

SHOT AT HIS COLONEL

Narrow Escape of the Commandant of Fort Sheridan

FROM THE BULLETS OF AN ASSASSIN.

Fired at Three Times and Wounded While Reviewing Dress Parade by a Young Lieutenant Just Out of the Hospital After a Spree.

CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—Col. R. E. A. Crofton, of the United States army, was shot and wounded yesterday afternoon at Fort Sheridan by First Lieut. Pague.

At 4 o'clock, while the colonel was reviewing dress parade Lieut. Pague, who had been confined in the hospital, came upon the grounds and deliberately fired three shots at his superior officer. The first shot went wide of its mark, the second went through the colonel's coat and the third grazed his abdomen. Pague was disarmed before he could fire again

As soon as Lieut. Pague was subdued an ambulance was called to remove the wounded colonel, and Pague was escorted to the guardhouse, where he was closely watched

Why the young lieutenant should have attempted to take the life of his colonel seems to be something of a mystery, though it is known that he is hardly responsible for his actions.

It appears that he has lately been drinking heavily, and was yesterday in the army hospital getting rid of the effects of his last spree.

The affair has caused great excitement at Fort Sheridan, and the escape of Col. Crofton, who is the commandant at the post, from death is considered miraculous. The wound received by the officer is painful, though not thought to be serious.

ABSURD ON THEIR FACE.

Secretary Olney Has Not Sent an Ultimatum to Great Britain.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4 —Dispatches stating that Secretary Olney had given Great Britain ninety days in which to accede to arbitration in the Venezuelan boundary dispute, are pronounced at the state department absurdities on their face. An ultimatum implies war if its conditions are not complied with. Congress alone has the right to declare war.

If any such ridiculous dispatch as that ascribed to Secretary Olney had been sent out he would be liable to immediate impeachment on the assembling of congress. No such dispatch has been sent The United States has made an urgent representation in favor of arbitration, and has transmitted to Ambassador Bayard a carefully-prepared brief presenting the Venezuelan view of the case as adopted by the United States, and there the matter rests for the present.

DELIBERATE MURDER

Of Armenian Prisoners by Turks While En Route to Prison

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 4 —The reports that Armenians who were arrested for taking part in Monday's and Tuesday's rioting were killed while being taken into custody have been confirmed. It is known to a certainty that five of the prisoners were so killed, and it would excite no surprise to hear that others met their death in the same manner. Eyewitnesses of the rioting say that the Armenians did not discharge their firearms until Maj. Serwet Bey ordered the police to fire upon them.

Turkish officials view the troubles as being the direct outcome of the agitation in Europe, especially in Great Britain, in favor of the Armenians as against the Turks.

The foreign diplomats met here at the Austrian embassy and held a conference on the situation

It took hard work by the people and the fire department to prevent the grounds being swept clear of buildings. Four hundred feet of barns were burned and a number of valuable horses killed. Great excitement prevailed. Gov. Matthews was present during the conflagration. The total loss was about $10,000.

Hot=Air=Blast Draught Furnace.

The "PERFECT"

Hot-Air Blast Furnace.

A Furnace specially constructed to prevent the formation of smoke by consuming all gases and leaves only a steam like mist at the chimney top. A heat producer and fuel saver—a marvellous success. Will burn any variety of soft or hard coal without a continuous waste of smoke from the chimney; will keep fire over night. Perfect combustion with great saving of fuel, leaving very little ashes.

The "PERFECTS" have been subjected to very severe tests during the winters from 1893 to 1894-'95, and proved efficient, even under long and trying special soft coal tests, and we are satisfied, after our 15 years of furnace experience, that the "PERFECT" is the most powerful heating furnace ever constructed. It is far in advance for superior merit and heating capacity over any furnace in existence. The steel and iron manufacturers use a highly heated hot-air blast draught, while all the warm-air furnace manufacturers (with one exception) use cold air. This is the cause of the great waste of fuel and heat.

The new "PERFECT" Hot-Air Blast Furnaces, by actual tests in over 400 cases during the past winter, produced 80 to 110 degrees higher temperature in hot air pipes, with 10 to 12 per cent. less coal, obtaining nearly as much heat from the gases and escaping carbon (which are wasted by all other methods) as the ordinary furnaces make from the entire amount of coal used. The scientific principle is that it takes air to burn coal and gases, and when that air is heated above 800 degrees before coming in contact with the flame and gases, it readily mixes, ignites, and produces almost perfect combustion; (whereas, if cold air, or air below 800 F., is used, such gases are chilled and pass off unconsumed.) The result produced in these "PERFECT" Furnaces is the instantly igniting of all gases and carbon, producing a clear bright flame, accelerating and intensifying combustion to a very high degree—a result never before obtained in any warm-air furnace.

The combustion chamber in the "PERFECT" Furnace is a Retort, in which is mixed the heated air and gases and carbon. The oxygen being supplied at a high temperature, at the proper point of combustion, perfect combustion is obtained, producing enormous power in heating with an unprecedented small amount of waste

This Hot-Air Furnace is a Marvel as a Heat Producer and a Fuel-Saver.

FRIDAY, OCT . 1895.

WHILE there is no speck of the black flag on the horizon, it is still said that Celveland is about to inaugurate a vigorous foreign policy. The people are willing to accept anything, even these reports, for a change.

THE Prohibitionists have nominated a candidate for congress in the Eighteenth district to succeed Congressman Remann, deceased. He will probably not be the successor, but voting for an alleged Prohibitionist will satisfy a few consciences, and that is important.

SENATOR VEST says, to be frank, he does not believe that the free silver men will dominate the next Democratic national convention. This will open the way for the minority, who will know there is no danger in it to make a great howl about the Democratic party being in favor of the free coinage of silver.

WE take it all back. We did not believe that two-thirds of the Texas legislature would vote for an emergency bill to prevent the prize fight in that state, but they did it, and did it manfully and easily. This ends the mill so far as Texas is concerned, and Mrs. Culbertson, the wife of the governor who wanted the fight to go on will probably not receive a complimentary ticket to the mill. She will have to be satisfied with resolutions passed by the pugilistic fraternity.

The Pingree Plan Success.

Those who laughed at the potato farm idea of Mayor Pingree, of Detroit, ought to step up now and make an apology to the progressive executive of the City of the Straits. The success of the potato farm plan has exceeded the wildest estimate. The average between the high and low estimates of the crop is 70,000 bushels. It is probable the average price received for these potatoes will be 50 cents, and therefore it can be seen that $35,000 has been made by the city and the city's poor. This year Detroit advanced $5000 for this potato plan, and under the terms of the gardening process the city will get back about four times the amount expended.

How any one can deny that this Pingree plan is a perfect God-send to some poor families of the large cities is hard to understand. It furnishes to these people an addition of income, food and work. It gives them an occupation for their spare time and it affords their families a place to work for a better living. When Mr. Pingree's plan was first announced it was laughed at and sneered at a great deal by some people. To us it has always seemed that this idea was the happiest inspiration that any official of any American city has had for many years past. What could be better than giving the poor who apply for the chance the opportunity to institute gardens on the vacant spaces in the city and giving them an opportunity not only to make money but also to improve their condition in life. If the Pingree plan could be tried in every large American city, it would seem the very best result that could follow. The Detroit experience has proved the success of the idea and there is no reason why other cities cannot do as well as Detroit in the matter.

The New Interview.

Columbus (O.) Dispatch: General John C. New is commonly supposed to be the mouthpiece of General Benjamin Harrison and anything he says in a political way is usually accepted as having the approval of the leading Indiana Republican statesman. In his interview in the Indianapolis News, General New unquestionably speaks for General Harrison, but in doing so it must be observed that he does not communicate anything that will entirely satisfy those who advocate the nomination of one of the avowed candidates. General New's declaration still leaves General Harrison a receptive candidate—something presumably he has always been and always will be until the nomination is made.

The further declaration of General New that if General Harrison had the power to decline in anybody's favor it would be neither Governor McKinley nor Hon. Thomas B. Reed, appears very much like an expression of Mr. New's own opinion and inclination. It is to be presumed that at the present time General New cannot tolerate the idea of anybody but his ex chief being named in connection with the presidential nomination, and that the consideration of other candidates is a thing so far removed from his mind that he has no settled idea. He is probably against Governor McKinley and Mr. Reed because they are recognized as General Harrison's strongest opponents and the ones most likely to prevent the possibility of General Harrison becoming the beneficiary of a deadlock.

THERE is no doubt, no failure, when you take DeWitt's Colic and Cholera Cure. It is pleasant, acts promptly, no and after effects. J. W. Eichinger.

EXASPERATING BEAST.

A Massachusetts Horse with a [illegible] Appetite and Bad [illegible]

The Pratt family of Covell street, Fall River, possesses a queer horse. It all came out in the Second district court the other day. There were present James Pratt, Mrs. James Pratt and Mary A. Lemene. The last named was accused by the Pratts of shaking up the peace of the neighborhood until it fairly rattled, and she told the story of the Pratt horse. She said that this horse enjoyed a roving commission, and that he subsisted chiefly on cans, hoopskirts, fence rails and posters. This diet soured his temper and he chased children and made a general nuisance of himself. It was his game to terrify the little ones until they dropped their between-meals bread and butter, which he consumed in unholy glee. One morning Mrs. Lemene left her home with a dinner pail in her hands and was held up by the Pratt horse. She had to surrender and look on while the animal swallowed the contents of said pail, but it made her blood boil. She straightway called on the Pratts, told them what she thought of their horse and demanded a dress pattern which she had given to Mrs. Pratt to make up. The countermanding of this order naturally led to word and words led to court. The judge ruled that the Pratt horse must be an exasperating beast and excused Mrs. Lemene.

Permanganate of Potassium Cures a Desperate Case of [illegible]

Dr. W. H. Howell, of [illegible], Fla., communicates the following to the Medical World, Philadelphia:

Since I have been practising in Florida I have been constantly expecting an opportunity to test permanganate of potash in serpent poisoning. We have some very large rattlesnakes here and any quantity of moccasins. Occasionally a dog is struck by a rattler and death invariably results in a very short time. There have been a few persons bitten by them in this community and all have died in great agony. A few weeks ago I was called out five or six miles in the country to see a lad about eight years old, who had been bitten the day before by a moccasin. It was twenty-four hours after the wound was inflicted before I saw him and the condition of the lad was anything but encouraging. He had been bitten on the calf of the right leg, and the fang punctures being at least one and a half inches apart, it must have been a large snake. Nothing had been done for him except the administration of alcohol freely. The entire limb—even his body—was enormously swollen. The leg from his knee down was almost black. He was cold and his pulse very small and weak, while he lay in a stupor except at short intervals, when he would rave and scream as if he thought another snake had fastened its fangs in his person. I injected at the seat of the bite onetenth grain permanganate of potassium and they continued to administer it by the mouth, one-sixth grain doses every two hours, gave digitalis to sustain the heart, and continued the alcohol in moderate quantities.

Visiting the boy next day I was rather surprised to find such marked improvement. The swelling was reduced, the discoloration had disappeared, while a strong pulse and calm surface denoted a much better general condition. The antidote was continued for another day and he made a prompt recovery without even suppuration at the seat of the wound.

Small Fry Swindlers.

Some of the meanest of these are they who seek to trade upon and make capital out of the reputation of the greatest of American tonics, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, by imitating its outward guise. Reputable druggists, however, will never foist upon you as genuine spurious imitations of or substitute for this sovereign remedy for malaria, rheumatism, dyspepsia, constipation, liver complaint and nervousness. Demand, and if the dealer be honest, you will get the genuine article.

LADIES IN COUNCIL.

Methodist Missionary Workers Meet at Grace M. E. Church.

Thursday afternoon the seventh annual convention of the Illinois Conference Branch of the Woman's Home Missionary society began business at Grace M. E. church. Mrs. A. W. Conklin, the Branch president, occupied the chair.

The session opened with devotional exercises led by the president. Fraternal greetings were extended by the sister societies by the following persons: Mrs. Crary, Congregational church society; Mrs. Jenison, Baptist church society; Mrs. Wood, Grace church foreign missionary society; Mrs. R. G. Wells, Presbyterian society; Mrs. Adams, First M. E. church society.

The corresponding secretary, Mrs. B. S. Potter, of Bloomington, read her report. She told about the Cunningham Deaconess Home and Orphanage at Urbana. The building has been remodeled and it will be dedicated and opened the last of this month. The home was a gift from Judge Cunningham, and is the property of the society.

The treasurer, Mrs. Sarah E. King, reported that during the year $2600 worth of supplies and $1200 in money had been given out to missions. The present financial condition of the society is flourishing. Rev. R. G. Hobbs, pastor of the church, was introduced to the convention.

The following committees were appointed: Credentials, Mrs. Kirkpatrick, of Farmer City and Mrs. Gray, of Taylorville. Resolutions, Miss Pegram, of Lincoln, Mrs. Ballard, of Springfield, and Mrs. Wilder, of Bloomington. Courtesies, Mrs. R. G. Hobbs and Mrs. George Bright, of Decatur. Auditing, Mrs. Newton, of Bloomington, and Mrs. Bierney, of Urbana. Financial, Mrs. Shepherd, of Champaign, and Mrs. Nims, of Decatur.

Mrs. M. H. Newton, of Bloomington, made an address on "The Work of the Auxiliaries." She made an interesting speech, telling of the necessity of missionary work on the frontier and among the Indians and spoke of the need of workers in New York City, Chicago and other large cities. At 4:30 the convention adjourned till evening.

The evening session was well attended by the delegates and members of the church. A choir of twelve voices led by Sherman McClelland rendered music. Addresses of welcome were given on behalf of the district by Rev. C. Galeener, on behalf of the church by Rev. Hobbs, and on behalf of auxiliary societies by Mrs. Ellen Erwin. Mrs. M. E. Gregg made an address on the work of the deaconesses of the church. She is a deaconess herself, and is to be superintendent of the Cunningham Deaconesses' Home and Orphanage, established at Urbana. She explained what the duties of the deaconesses consisted of. "Our Pledge" was the subject of an address by Mrs. B. S. Potter. She explained the workings of the society and told of the different branches of work the members were pledged to support.

The business of the convention this forenoon was taken up largely in hearing reports. Officers will be elected this afternoon, and to-night Rev. D. F. Howe will deliver an address.

Seriously Hurt.

In the Mattoon Journal appears the following paragraph referring to the accomplished daughter of Judge J. F. Hughes, who is well known in Decatur:

Miss Columbia Hughes, who was injured in Chicago Monday evening, was brought home by her mother last night and her friends are relieved to learn her condition is not dangerous, although she is painfully injured. She was hurt while going home from her work accompanied by a friend, when on Michigan avenue they were accidentally run into by a cyclist coming toward them dodging a cab. They were both injured but Columbia the more seriously. Her friend was able to call a cab and take her home after she had sufficiently revived the shock. She is cut about the face and badly bruised.

"Charley's Aunt" To-Night.

"Charley's Aunt" will be seen at the Grand to-night. It is one of the biggest comedy successes which this country has seen in years. It is full of good, wholesome fun, spontaneous, uproarious, clean and unforced. It is a very simple thing, too, which causes most of it. A young man masquerading and masquerading in the most maliciously droll and awkward manner, in female apparel, with scarcely any attempt whatever at mimicking ladylike airs and graces. The comedy comes direct from its New York run and will be played here by an excellent company.

Illinois Banks.

The tabulation of the reports of the 132 state banks of Illinois, showing their condition on the morning of September 21st, has been completed by the auditor of public accounts. The total resources are $128,866,984, as against $131,286,410 on June 11th, when the last previous call was made. Deposits aggregate over $99,000,000, being three million less than on June 11th. The average cash reserve is 35 per cent of deposits.

THERE will be a gathering of young people this evening at the home of Mr and Mrs. C. M. Allison on Prairie avenue.

HEAR the address to-night on "Our Barbara Fritchies" at Grace M. E. church, by Rev. D. F. Howe.

LANE COOKED.

The Republicans Name a Winning Candidate.

On the Seventeenth Ballot Cyrus L. Cook, of Edwardsville, was Nominated in the Eighteenth District to Succeed Remann —A Strong Candidate.

The Republicans of the Eighteenth congressional district met at Litchfield yesterday to nominate a candidate for congress to succeed Congressman Remann, deceased. The convention was an enthusiastic one. Though the district is 3000 Democratic, in the great squaring-up election in 1894, Remann, Republican, carried it by over 2000 against Lane, who was renominated by the Democrats a few days ago. The Republicans expect to carry it again. These conditions brought out a number of candidates for the nomination and quite a spirited contest at the primaries and also at the convention.

The district is composed of Moultrie Shelby, Montgomery, Fayette, Bond and Madison counties. Shelby presented the name of Hon. H. J. Hamlin; Fayette presented W. M. Folger, and Madison presented Judge Cyrus L. Cook. The platform adopted favored American protection and reciprocity; the recognition of the belligerent rights of the Cuban patriots, and the use of gold, silver and paper money so far as it could be done without impairing the purchasing value of either kind of money.

As soon as the platform was adopted the convention proceeded to present the names of the candidates, and balloting began. For sixteen ballots the result was: Folger 17; Hamlin 24; Cook 41.

The convention then took a recess for ten minutes, after which the final ballot was taken as follows:

	FOLGER.	COOK.	HAMLIN.
Bond	..	9
Fayette	12	—
Madison		27
Montgomery		10	5
Moultrie			7
Shelby			12
	12	46	24

On motion of Charles Voorhis, of Fayette, the nomination was made unanimous with great enthusiasm.

Cyrus L. Cook is about 58 years of age, and was born and grew to manhood near Edwardsville in Madison county, and is a bachelor. He is a graduate of Shurtleff College, of Alton, and is also a graduate of the Ann Arbor law school. He began the practice of law in Edwardsville in 1869, where he is still practicing his profession.

He is a thorough Republican and an excellent campaigner, being a master of wit and a fine speaker. In 1876 he was elected states's attorney, and in 1886 he was elected county judge of his county, running far ahead of his ticket. These are the only offices he ever sought. He stands well among the people and is one of those men everybody, regardless of politics, admires and regards as an honest man, and as a result is a great vote-getter. He is nearly six feet six inches tall, and as the saying goes, if elected, he will be a congressman his constituents can "look up to." He is a member of the Baptist church, and when the church in Edwardsville was in sore financial straits on account of a building debt Judge Cook paid off the indebtedness and now owns the building and grounds while the church enjoys its use. He will probably be the only congressman who owns a church.

Roland Reed Tuesday.

Roland Reed, one of our most popular actors, and a comedian of merit, will play his annual engagement in this city at the Grand on Tuesday evening, October 8th. He will present his newest, and said to be his best success, "The Politician, or The Woman's Plank," a political satire by the late David D. Lloyd and Sydney Rosenfeld. The story deals with the machinations of General Josiah Limber, a scheming politician, who hits upon Peter Wooley as a compromise candidate for Congress. Wooley is anything but a politician. He is rich, satisfied with his manner of life, thoroughly domestic and loves his home and garden patch. But Limber gets the women on his side, and finally persuades Wooley to "let his name be used." It is used in the most lurid and band-wagon style. The interest culminates in the third act, which represents the ante-room of the convention hall. Limber works like a horse and carries the day, Wooley being declared the nominee. The lover of Wooley's daughter is nominated by the other side, which causes their engagement to be broken, and Limber falls in love with Wooley's niece, while her aunt sets her cap for Limber. All these complications are straightened out in the last act, which takes place in the dining room in Wooley's residence, where election returns are received. Mr. Reed's company includes Miss Isadore Rush, Miss Rose Braham, Mrs. Mary Myers, Will R. Bernard, Charles Wyngate, Sheridan Tupper, John H. Bunny, Julian Reed, James Douglas.

TO ACCOMMODATE those who desire to see the Veiled Prophet's parade at St. Louis, the Wabash will run a special train to St. Louis on Tuesday, October 8th. Leave Decatur at 1:45 p. m.; returning leave St. Louis at 11 p. m. 1-d7

OGLESBY'S REGIMENT.

The Eighth Illinois Regiment Veterans at Lexington.

"Dick" Oglesby's old regiment, the Eighth Illinois, met Wednesday in Lexington to enjoy the annual reunion. The attendance was not so large as it has been on other annual reunion occasions, but there were a number present who had not met with the boys since the muster out after the war. One came all the way from Texas, one from Louisiana, and another from Kansas. Capt. C. H. Burt, of Barry, Ill., president of the association, presided at the morning session. The roll call showed 32 present. It was reported to the members present that the wife of one of their comrades, James McCullough, had died that morning in Lexington. They marched in a body to the house and presented their sympathies. At dinner time the people of Lexington took the boys to their homes and royally entertained them. In the evening the campfire was held in the opera house which was crowded. The fire opened with an invocation by Rev. Morgan, of Joliet, followed by the singing of "America" by the audience, led by the Lexington glee club. The address of welcome was then delivered by Mayor Franklin of Lexington and was responded to by Captain Hurt. After another song by the glee club the old colonel of the regiment, Richard Oglesby, was greeted with rousing cheers as he arose to speak to his men. He occupied the floor for nearly an hour and was in his usual good humor. With all his fun and wit there was a vein of hard common sense. He spoke feelingly to the rising generation. Rev. Ayling, department chaplain of the G. A. R. followed Mr. Oglesby and after him came Comrade Ayers, from Dallas, Texas, who related some funny incidents of the war times. Thursday the association met again. The old officers were re-elected, resolutions were passed thanking the people of Lexington for their hospitality, the report of the obituary committee was received, the date of the next meeting was left with the president and secretary but the place of the reunion was fixed at Barry, Ill. After this the members again went to the home of Comrade McCullough and viewed the remains of his wife. A number of them remained in Lexington to attend the funeral.

Where are the Bloomers Now?

It will soon be too chilly for them We have laid ours aside; put on our working clothes and gone to handing out our $2 and $3 fall and winter shoes, for both ladies' and gents' wear, at a pretty lively gait. Have you seen them? They are marvelous in beauty, highest in quality and perfect in fit. We have them in all styles and widths. None better; few as good, and none so cheap. See them. HON. A. J. HOPKINS.

Will Address the Teachers of the County, and High School Pupils Oct. 26—Subject, "How Congress Legislates.

Arrangements have been made whereby Hon. A. J. Hopkins, congressman from the Aurora district, will address the teachers of the city and the High school pupils and other teachers in the county, at the High School building Saturday forenoon, Oct. 26, 1895. Subject "How Congress Legislates." Mr. Hopkins has been in congress many years, and has taken front rank among the leaders in the house and will probably preside over the leading committee of that body in the present congress, that of ways and means. He is familiar with the rules of the house of representatives and all the regular proceedings in enacting bills into law, and thus equipped will be able to give those who hear him much valuable information upon that subject, and every teacher in the country should hear him. It is very creditable to those in charge of our schools that so much interest has been shown in instructing our young people in the important matter of our system of government. This has been too long neglected, and the result is that a great many of our citizens are not only ignorant of the methods of legislation, but a very large per cent. of them do not know how often or when our legislature and congress meet, or for how long senators and representatives are elected, and many other things that every citizen should know and really must know before he is an intelligent voter.

HE'S A BORDER TERROR.

Apache Kid, the Most Notorious Outlaw of Arizona.

His Career in Crime Has No Parallel in Indian Atrocity—He Has a Passion for Stealing Pretty Maidens for Wives.

The Apache Kid is what they call the Indian outlaw whose name has a fascination, a terror for every dweller upon the southwestern border of Arizona and New Mexico. Its mention will make the most daring frontiersman clasp his weapon with a firmer grip. It will send children trembling to their mothers from their play.

The person who thus terrorizes this wild region, where ordinary crimes pass current, is a renegade Apache Indian, with all the devilish ingenuity of that fiendish race. His Indian name, writes Herbert Heywood in the Boston Traveler, is Es-ki-bi-Nadel, and he is under thirty years of age. He was educated at the Hampton Indian school, from which he was sent to the government reservation at San Carlos, where he was trained by a scout for the regular army. His natural aptitude soon made him familiar with the military tactics and mode of scrutiny and fighting of the United States troops. But neither education nor association with white men could repress the savagery of his nature, and he incited an outbreak among the Indians on the reservation and set fire to the schoolhouse. This offense was promptly punished by the arrest of the Kid and seven of his followers. On the 2d of November, 1889 while they were being conveyed to jail in a stage coach, by the sheriff and his posse, they broke their bonds near Riverside, A. T., killed the sheriffs and escaped to the Sierra Madre mountains, in the province of Sonora, Mexico, just over the line from Arizona and New Mexico.

That was the beginning of a career in crime that has no parallel in Indian atrocity. Secure in these arid mountains, whose every avenue of approach is guarded by a barrier of nature formidable and awful, with trackless mazes of desert sandhills, and having only at great distances water holes and patches of cultivation—here the Kid's band has been constantly increased by disaffected Indians from the reservations and from Mexico. They have raided the border and penetrated far into the interior, leaving a trail of blood behind them. They are even now destroying the homes of ranchmen, waylaying travelers along the desert roads, ambushing goldseekers in the arid hills, picking off cowboys on their lonely ranges, stealing into settlements in the stillness of night, plundering and killing the sleeping inhabitants, till hundreds of people have met death by the hand of the Apache Kid and his band during the past four years.

Though a reward of $5,000 by the governor of Arizona and $2,000 by the governor of New Mexico have been placed upon his head and repeated expeditions of government troops have been sent out for his capture, he has thus far eluded pursuit, ranging over a vast extent of country, comprising thousands of square miles where no white man can follow for lack of water.

Every day repeats the story of his crimes. At unexpected times the Kid appears in many different guises, but he is usually dressed as a Mexican, with a drooping sombrero, flannel shirt, belt, trousers and top boots or shoes.

The Kid does not by any means confine himself to forays and murderous outrages. He has a passion for stealing girls for wives. His first achievement in this line was the capture of Jo-ash-ay, an Apache maiden, whom he took from the door of her wickiup on the San Carlos reservation in September, 1890. He next secured the mild-faced Na-theth-lay, who was but thirteen years old. He came upon the girl and her mother at Cibicu crossing of the Salt river on the reservation May 17, 1892. He killed the mother and made captive the daughter, but released her shortly after and she returned to the reservation. His third victim was Nah-tah-go-yah, the daughter of Indian Scout Jack Long. She was forcibly taken by the Kid from the reservation October 25, 1892. While he was engaged in this abduction his first wife, Jo-ash-ay, escaped from his camp and made her way to the reservation alone. She has since acted as guide for the troops in pursuit of the Kid. It was through her that Jack Long effected the rescue of his daughter.

The most notable expedition hitherto led against the Kid was in 1892 by Lieut. Williams, of Fort Whipple, near Prescott, A. T. He took a detachment and thirteen Apache scouts, keen-scented as bloodhounds. They struck the trail of the Kid and followed him for weeks, sometimes camping in the evening where he had camped the previous night, till the trail led farther and farther into the arid region on the south, where they were compelled to abandon their quest, not being permitted to cross the Mexican border into the fastnesses where he sought refuge.

EX-SENATOR MAHONE

Friends Left Without Hope of His Recovery.

A STRUGGLE AGAINST ADVERSITY,

In Which the Fates Were Against Him, Believed to Have Finally Crushed Him—Political Power, Social Position and Wealth All Flown.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—Gen. Mahone's serious illness leaves his friends without hope of his recovery. He has been struggling against adversity for such a long time that his troubles are believed to have finally crushed him. Once a power in politics, as well as a social leader in Virginia, he amassed considerable wealth; but all this greatness has disappeared.

From having been one of the leading confederate generals in Lee's army; then a prominent railroad owner and a democratic chieftain; then a United States senator and a power in republican politics, the brilliant Virginian whose personal appearance with his frilled shirts and tiny patent leather shoes has so often been described and pictured, will pass away and leave slight vacancy in the affairs of men.

A blight has rested upon him since he dared to leave the democratic ranks and vote with the republicans in the United States senate. It mattered not that he owed absolutely nothing to the democracy for his elevation and that he was chosen to the senate by a combination of republicans and readjusters, his fate was sealed by the bond of ostracism placed upon him at home, for his active independence. Once a democrat and then to turn republican is a crime in the south.

Not only was Mahone ostracised socially, but a boycott was placed against him in business so effective and far-reaching as to continue its pursuit down to last winter, when he risked everything on the only stake he possessed. He endeavored to sell to the government a piece of his land in Washington for the erection of a government printing office. His former democratic friends and confederates in the senate were implacable. They frustrated his plans as they would those of a life-long enemy.

What effect Mahone's death will have in Virginia politics cannot yet be estimated. It is a fact that in assuming control of the republican organization Mahone provoked dissatisfaction. Frequently he had charged to his account the loss of the state in congressional elections. With all his skill and shrewdness as an organizer Mahone could not restore himself to popularity, or even secure a minimum degree of success in his later years.

He had determined to make another fight in Virginia on protection lines, and it was believed by many that this course would re-establish republicanism. With that change Mahone would be lifted from the desperate financial depths to which he had fallen. But Mahone will never lead either confederates or democrats or republicans again and his one-time followers can now carry out their own designs undisturbed by the thought of what Mahone might do to thwart them.

GEN. NELSON A. MILES

Will Assume Command of the Army of the United States To-Morrow.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—Gen. Thomas H. Ruger left yesterday afternoon for New York and this morning will relieve Gen. Nelson A. Miles, of the command of the department of the east at Governor's Island.

Gen. Miles will arrive at Washington late this afternoon and assume command of the army to-morrow morning. The ceremony will be very simple.

It is expected that Gen. Miles will call on the secretary of war this afternoon if he arrives from New York in time. To-morrow morning he will step into Gen Schofield's office, on the first floor of the war department building, and a few minutes later issue an order announcing the fact that he is in command and proclaiming the names of his staff officers.

Col. Henry C. Corbin, who has been assigned to New York as adjutant general of the department of the east, will not leave until the latter part of October. While Col. Corbin has lived in Cincinnati, San Francisco, Chicago and Washington, his residence has been retained in Cincinnati, where he is entitled to vote. He is a republican in politics and has voted but once in his life, put is paired at every election in favor of the republican nominee by order of the Hamilton county republican central committee.

THE BATTLE OVER

And the Victory Won—Prize-Fighting Barred from Texas Soil.

AUSTIN, Tex., Oct. 4.—The great prize-fight legislation question is over with and the anti-prize-fight bill, which was passed by both houses Wednesday, was sent to the governor last evening by the senate and he signed it at 5 o'clock and it is now a law. This effectually settles the question that has been agitating the state for two months past and everybody is glad it is over with. Gov. Culberson has received many congratulatory telegrams from every section, and he says he feels very proud of the way the legislature has backed him up in the matter. The representatives say that private information to them from their homes gives evidence that in voting to quarantine prize-fighting from Texas soil they have done that which meets universal approval. The excitement being over now, the hotel lobbies are clear. The legislature will adjourn sine die Monday, and will in the meantime consider some bills purely of a local nature.

TWO FOR CLEVELAND.

Tebeau's Team Take the Second Game of the Temple Cup from the Orioles.

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 4.—Cleveland won the second game of the Temple cup series in a walk yesterday. They made enough runs in the first inning to win the game, and Hanlon's men had no chance to win at any stage. Cuppy pitched a wonderful game. He was hit safely but five times, and two of these were of the scratch order. He had great speed and control, giving but two bases on balls. While Hoffer was not hit hard, the Cleveland's hits were bunched and most of them counted in the run column.

McKean's work at short was gilt-edged. He accepted twelve out of thirteen chances, most of them hard ones. His only error was the fumble of a ground hit that bounded badly.

Between 8,000 and 10,000 people saw the game and it was necessary to establish a two-base hit ground rule.

Cleveland scored three runs in the first on singles by Burkett and McKean, a two-base hit by Zimmer and a passed ball. Errors by McGraw, Hoffer and Jennings let in another run in the fifth. In the sixth two more were scored on doubles by Cuppy and Burkett and two bases on balls. Hits by Tebeau and Cuppy and good base running by the former scored the last run in the seventh.

Baltimore scored one in the second on errors by McKean and McAleer and a hit by Carey. Hits by Jennings and Brodie scored another in the sixth.

The teams will rest to-day and play the final game of the series in this city to-morrow. Young and Hemming will probably do the pitching. Score:

Cleveland.....	3	0	0	0	1	3	1	0	*	—7 10 5
Baltimore....	0	1	0	0	0	1	0	0	0	—2 5 4

Batteries—Cuppy and Zimmer, Hoffer and Clarke. Umpires—Keefe and McDonald.

ALLEGED FALSE RUMORS

Set at Rest by S. E. Morss, United States Consul General at Paris.

CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—S. E. Morss, United States consul general at Paris, who is away from his post on a leave of absence, passed through this city yesterday. In the course of an interview he denied that there was any foundation for the numerous stories that have been circulated regarding the alleged dissatisfaction of the state department at Washington, with negotiations in general and the Waller case in particular in France. He stated that there was no truth in the report that the president had called him home, because of the confidence reposed in him to gain information on these points. Mr. Morss said:

"The facts are that I have nothing to do with the diplomatic service and have not been called home by anybody. I never said or did a thing to give plausibility to such a story and there is no reason to believe that the administration is dissatisfied with Mr. Eustis' handling of the Waller case. Neither is there any foundation for the statement that he contemplated resignation."

A MILLION-DOLLAR FIRE

Destroys the Plant of the Warren (R. I.) Cotton Mills—Sixteen Hundred Employes Thrown Out of Work.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Oct. 4.—One of the most destructive fires that has occurred in this state in many years last evening destroyed the buildings constituting the mills of the Warren Manufacturing Co., at Warren, making fine sheetings and shirtings, and causing a loss of over $1,000,000 Just how the fire started is not known yet, but an explosion is said to have occurred in the engine room.

The fire broke out at 7 o'clock and before the Warren fire department could get water enough the mill was blazing fiercely. Aid was telephoned for and two steamers were sent from here. The mill buildings, including warehouses, were totally destroyed and a lumber yard adjoining was badly scorched, as were the company's tenements. The disaster will throw about 1,600 people out of employment.

Insurance so far as known is as follows: Mills and machinery, $850,000; tenements, $100,000; warehouse and contents, not known. The town is practically ruined by the fire.

HARRY WRIGHT GONE.

The "Grand Old Man" of Baseball Reaches the Home Plate.

HAVING SCORED HIS LAST HOME RUN.

Always Honest and Conscientious in His Dealings with Managers and Players, He Established a High Standard of Uprightness.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Oct. 4.—Harry Wright, the veteran baseball player and manager, died in this city shortly after 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon of catarrhal pneumonia, after a lingering illness. Harry Wright, the "Grand Old Man" of baseball, was the best-known, and by all odds, the most popular man ever connected with the great American game, and he did more than any other to bring the game to its present high standard. Always thoroughly honest and conscientious in his dealings with managers and players, he established a previously unknown standard of uprightness among the ball men. His death will cause sorrow in the hearts of all who have ever enjoyed his acquaintance.

"Uncle Harry," as he was affectionately called, began his athletic career as a cricketer. He was born in Sheffield, England, January 10, 1835, but his parents brought him in 1836 to New York city. In 1857 he commenced to play baseball with the then famous Knickerbocker club of New York. In July, 1866, he helped to organize the famous Cincinnati Baseball club, the Cincinnati "Reds." The season of 1869 was Cincinnati's banner year. During that season the club traveled all over the United States and met all the leading clubs without losing a game. It was the first eastern club to visit California.

In a game played June 22, 1867, at Newport, Ky., Harry Wright made seven home runs for the Cincinnati club, this being the largest number of home runs scored by any individual player in a game.

The Cincinnati club having disbanded, Harry Wright, in 1871, was engaged to play center field and captain the then newly organized Boston club team. Although the Boston team did not become champions that year, Harry gathered a strong nine together, which during the following four seasons were the champions of the first regular professional association of the country.

He was one of the Boston-Philadelphia combination that visited England in 1875. Harry played regularly in centerfield until the close of the season of 1874. After the National league was organized, Harry's Boston team won the championship of that organization during the seasons of 1877 and 1878. He remained with the Boston club until the end of the season of 1881.

In 1882 he managed the Providence club. In 1884 he was engaged to manage the Philadelphia club, and continued as manager of the Philadelphia club until the close of the season of 1893, when he was made chief of the league staff of umpires, a position which was created for him and which he held at the time of his death

FROM WOKING PRISON

Mrs. Maybrick Continues to Declare Her Innocence of Her Husband's Death.

LONDON, Oct. 4.—A woman just released from Woking prison, who shared the occupancy of a cell in that institution with Mrs. Maybrick, says that the murderess continues to declare that she is innocent of the killing of her husband, for which crime she is serving a life sentence. The woman says that Mrs. Maybrick admitted that her conduct had been indiscreet, her illicit relations with the man Brierly furnishing a seeming motive for getting her husband out of the way, but she stoutly maintained her innocence of any act in connection with his death.

Two years ago, the woman says, Mrs. Maybrick became seriously ill, and finally confessed that she had cut herself internally with broken glass. She had not intended to commit suicide, however, but had injured herself solely with the object of attracting attention to herself and exciting sympathy.

TRUE TO HER TRUST.

A Stenographer Goes to Jail Rather than Deliver Up Papers Entrusted to Her by Her Employer.

CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—Miss Bertha Thompson, a stenographer in the law office of George B. Chamberlain, declined to produce some papers left in her care by her employer and required by the grand jury in a case under investigation. She was brought before Judge Payne, and, again refusing to give up the documents, was committed to the county jail for contempt of court. The papers asked for contain evidence, it is said, against Leon, the alleged diamond swindler, who was recently arrested charged with obtaining credit by false pretenses. Mr. Chamberlain is at present out of the city.

KILLING FROSTS

Visit the Tobacco-Producing Districts of Kentucky.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Oct. 4.—The heaviest frost ever known in the tobacco region of Owensboro, Ky., at this season fell Wednesday night, and reports from the country are that every stalk of tobacco left standing in the field was ruined entirely, while some that was cut and not housed was badly damaged.

Tobacco men estimate that in the Green River section the loss will be from 10 to 14 per cent. Some place the estimate higher.

MAYSVILLE, Ky., Oct 4 —Owing to the damage by frost, the tobacco crop in this heavy-producing section will suffer a loss of fully one-third of the crop.

FED GOLD TO A SHARK.

Truthful Tale Told by a Popular Yankee Ex-Diver.

After the Monster Had Swallowed Forty-Five Thousand Dollars in Hard Coin His Appetite Was Satisfied Very Completely.

"I suppose," quoth James T. Gaulin, of Winchester, Mass., who was sitting on the hotel veranda, to a Buffalo Express reporter, "that I had the honor of killing the most valuable fish that ever swam the seas. I did it single-handed, too. I aver that this fish was worth more at the time of its death than the finest sperm whale that was ever harpooned, although we should really leave whales out of the question when speaking of fish. It was thirty years ago, and I was young and foolish enough to be a deep-sea diver. Our diving schooner and crew had been sent to Cuba to try to recover some stuff from a Spanish boat that had foundered off the coast of Cuba, just where I don't now recollect. It was quite a long trip for us, and as the employment of a diving outfit was an expensive thing in those days, the boys knew that there must be something pretty valuable in the hold of the wreck. I was quite close to our skipper, and he told me that there were several boxes of gold coin in the wreck. On our arrival at the port near where the wreck lay in thirty feet of water the agent of the owners of the sunken schooner told us something more surprising. It was that the gold had not been stowed in boxes in the cabin, as was usual, but for some reason had been bagged and placed in the hold, being billed as copper washers.

"As the confidential man, I was selected to go down first and find the money bags, attach lines to them, and have them taken out before the other divers should proceed with the work of taking out the other freight that the water had not harmed. I was soon in the hold and was surprised to find that the bags were only a little distance from the hole in the side that had caused the schooner to founder. I had been told that there would be twelve bags, but I could lay my hands on but eleven of them. Finally I spied a torn bag lying near the hole in the hull, and on picking it up discovered that it contained a few gold coins. I decided that the heavy triple sacking had been torn open some way or other when the schooner sank. I fastened lines about the eleven bags that were intact, and had them hoisted, afterward going up for air, for our apparatus was not good.

"In a few minutes I returned to the hold to search for the scattered coins. Very few of them were in sight. It occurred to me that they might have been washed outside the boat, judging from the position of the wreck, and the fact that the hole was far down toward the ship's bottom. I was about to crawl out of the hole when I remembered that it might hazard the air pipe, so I was pulled up and let down again over the vessel's side. I was disappointed not to find any indication of the gold near the hole in the schooner, but set to work digging resolutely in the sand. I had gone but a foot down when I struck the gold pieces all in a lump. I picked out a great handful and turned the light on them, for I was a lover of gold then, even though it did not belong to me.

"Just then I saw something that made the rubber helmet rise from my head. It was a man-eating shark. I hadn't thought of one in so long that I had neglected to bring my knife. It was rushing at me. The stupid creature never stopped to consider that with a rubber and lead dressing a diver makes a poor lunch. I was kneeling beside the gold. At the shark's onslaught I naturally hung to the handful of gold as though to use it as a weapon. He turned on his side, opening his horrible mouth. A feeling of grim humor had come over me. The cruel goldbugs had sent me down here to be devoured, after saving thousands of dollars for them. I would be a spendthrift at the last. So with all my force I flung the heavy handful of gold into the yawning mouth.

"The shark must have thought it was a part of me, for he snapped his jaws over the golden morsel. I am satisfied that he broke some teeth. He swam back a little and then rushed at me again. I had no weapon but the gold, so again I flung into the hideous maw enough to buy me a home in New England. I saw him snap and swallow it. Again and again was the attack repeated, and as often did I hurl gold into the shark's throat. Pretty soon he became dizzy, as it were, for the gold had unbalanced him, settling in the forward part of his body. Then he writhed in agony, and I had to keep dodging his flurry. Then, with one terrible shudder, he sank to the bottom, weighted down by the gold. I tied a line about him, and then gave the signal to be pulled up. Then I helped hoist the shark. We cut him open. Gentlemen, you must take the word of an ex-diver that there was $45,000 in him. Gold had killed him."

NEW BREECH MECHANISM.

Valuable Invention Made by Naval Constructor Dashiell.

Naval Constructor Dashiell, of Washington, has perfected a breech mechanism which has been purchased by an ordnance company which manufactures rapid-fire guns. Mr. Dashiell practically created the present naval proving ground under disadvantages which would have staggered most men.

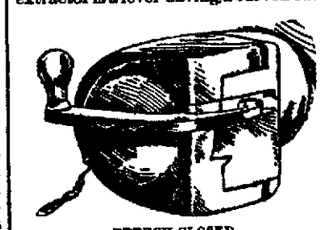

BREECH OPEN.
New Invention of Naval Constructor Dashiell

In that connection, he designed a great many of the mechanical devices which facilitate the operations at that establishment, and is well known as the inventor of a mechanism for four-inch guns, now in use on all the war vessels.

His last invention, say the experts, marks a distinct advance in the development of the interrupted screw principle. In large guns hitherto the breech-block plug, which must be fastened in before the gun can be discharged, has had three distinct right-angle movements, which of course take time. In the new Dashiell mechanism there are but two motions required. The technical description may be briefly given as follows:

The breech block is rotated by a worm gear of peculiar construction, one gear being a helical slot in one of the blanks of the plug, the other being the broad toe of the operating lever. When unlocked the plug is supported on a carrier and is so shaped as to swing out of and away from the breech without being withdrawn axially. The extractor is a lever having a curved back and actuated by a cam on the carrier. It acts as an ordinary claw hammer, with great power at first and increasing speed of withdrawal. This is obtained by moving fulcrum due to the curved back. The cartridge is finally ejected by a blow upon the tail of the extractor from the mechanism when fully opened. Safe and strong percussion (with alternate electric) firing attachment is fitted. The whole mechanism closes up dust tight and very compactly.

The advantages of this Dashiell mechanism include the fact that it may be worked either quickly or slowly; it has fewer parts, is simple of manipulation, and the gearing, being internal, is not exposed to injury from sand or blows.

Convinced Against His Will.

Nearly everyone for miles around Morley, Mich., knows Chas. A. Jones, whose farm lies two and a half miles northwest of that village. His friends, and they were numerous, feared that he would not long be spared to them, for the doctor pronounced him afflicted with heart disease and said he might drop dead any minute. This was not very pleasant reflection for his wife, who watched him almost constantly; once she found him where he fell unconscious in the yard. His appearance indicated paralysis, the doctors were called again, but they did not understand his case, consequently could't do much for him. He was in this condition when he heard of Dr. Wheeler's Nerve Vitalizer and its effectual use by others. He sent to Nelson Pike's drug store for a sample, and as he expressed it: "I had little faith in patent medicines, but something seemed to convince me that this was a good one and could be relied upon. Do you know I felt better and slept well after taking two doses? I want to say to you that Dr. Wheeler's Nerve Vitalizer is the most wonderful medicine ever made. It cured me so completely that I never felt better in my life."

Mr. Pike, who sold him the medicine, says: "I wouldn't have believed such a cure possible if I had not seen the change with my own eyes; it is certainly the most remarkable cure of my twenty four years experience in the drug business." It is equally as valuable for other nerve diseases, such as nervous prostration, spasms, fits, sleeplessness, mental depression, exhausted vitality, despondency, sexual and general debility. Novelties in Fall Footwear.

For Men:

Hanan & Sons, who are the recognized originators of the best styles, offer two very nobby shoes entirely new, both in enameled calf. One is the "Grecian toe," with extra heavy soles and extension edges. The other is known as the "Manhattan last." It has a cork sole and is a trifle wider than the Grecian toe. These are certainly the "proper thing" and they are bound to have a big sale. Enameled calf is just what is needed for fall and winter wear. It is guaranteed to keep out the water, and the wearer of these shoes can do without rubbers and still have no fear of catching cold.

But how about the Ladies?

Their feet ought to be properly and prettily protected, and surely they should be guarded against catching cold as well as the stronger and sterner sex.

DOUBLE DROWNING.

Two Young People Met Death in Mad River.

A double drowning occurred near Snyder's Station on Mad River, near Springfield, last evening. Stanley Brain and Mabel Olds, both aged 17 years, had gone down the river picnicking with a party, and the two young people took a canoe and started down the river. Soon their cries were heard, and two members of the party rushed down and saw them sink under the water. The drowned girl's remains were quickly recovered by some farmers, but the boy's body was not found until some hours later.

KILLED HIS WIFE.

A Bloody Murder at the State Capital.

The Awful Deed of William Henry at Springfield—The Result of a Spree.

SPRINGFIELD, Oct. 3.—William Henry, a middle-aged man, and until last Sunday an engineer on the Wabash railroad, shot his wife three times at their home in this city to-night. She will die. Henry has been drinking a good deal of late, and last Sunday resigned his position on the road, which he took during the strike. A few days ago he was abusive and struck his wife and she threatened to leave him. He has been away from home since, but came back to-night intoxicated and wanted to harmonize matters. She told him to go to bed and when he became sober she would talk it over with him. Without another word Henry drew a revolver and began shooting. He escaped from the house and at last accounts had not been apprehended.

Mrs. Henry is about 36 years old. She has but two children, the boy and girl already alluded to. Mr. and Mrs. Henry were married about fifteen years ago in this city. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Henry Kutscher, both of whom are living. She has two sisters, Mrs. F. C. Kerst and Mrs. Fred Brant, and one brother, Henry J. Kutscher, foreman of the Wabash machine shops. They are excellent people and this terrible tragedy has engaged the sympathy of all their neighbors and acquaintances.

Henry is about 36 years old and is an old railroader, having been employed by the Wabash company at different times during the past fifteen years. He has many of the qualities of a first-class engineer, but strong drink has been his downfall. He was discharged several years ago on account of drunkenness and worked for a time on the M., K. & T. During the strike a year ago last July he came back here and was reinstated in the employ of the Wabash, holding his run until this late series of sprees. From friends and relatives of the family it is learned that when he is sober he is an estimable man—honest, industrious and kind. He provided well for his family and was indulgent beyond the ordinary for a working man. Within the past few weeks he had apparently come to see that he was making a great mistake. In his brooding over the matter he conceived the idea that Mrs. Henry was partially responsible for his folly. On the other hand it now seems that she had been for years tolerant of his failing, and though she suffered great mental anguish on account of it, she suffered in silence. Until very recently she withheld the facts of her husband's misconduct from the members of her own family preferring not to cause them any distress thereby. She tried every means in the power of a loving wife to reclaim her husband, but without avail. The tragedy of last night is the unmerited reward of her heroism and affection. The closest friends of Henry are non-pulsed over this desperate deed. Many of them account for it on the ground that he was temporarily deranged as a result of hard drink.

Every effort is being made by the officials to apprehend the fugitive, who was said to have been seen on the Wabash track beyond the junction at 7 o'clock last evening. Sheriff Baxter and Deputy York in one buggy and Deputies Norvell and Marks in another scoured the country south and west of the city and came back empty handed. Detective Applegate of the Wabash was notified at Decatur and Billy Kane of the Alton was reached at St. Louis. They will be vigilant and will bring their forces into requisition to assist in the search. Twenty or more towns were reached last evening by telephone and later a large number of cards were sent out bearing a description of Henry. He weighs 170 pounds, is 5 feet, 9 inches, in height, wears a dark suit of clothes, black, stiff hat and a K. of P. charm.

Looking for a Location.

J. L. Adams, representing the large buggy firm of F. A. Ames & Co., will arrive in the city the first of next week. His mission is to select a location for a branch house, and Springfield will also be visited. An effort should be made to induce the gentleman to come to our city.

Was Fined.

The general secretary of the Y. M. C. A., of San Francisco, who threatened one of the jurors in the Durrant murder trial saying that if he did not hang Durrant the people would hang him, was fined $250 for contempt of court with the alternative of 5 days in the county jail.

PEDALINGS.

Much Interest Manifested in the Races Next Friday.

The Decatur Wheelmen's Club races next Friday, at the Association track, promises to be the largest ever held in this city or county.

The program committee who have once completed their work will be compelled to rearrange several lists, as over a dozen bicycle factories have sent valuable prizes, which are likely to be given for special entries.

There was a well-attended meeting of the Decatur Wheelmen's Club last evening at the Club house and a suitable appropriation was voted to defray the expenses of the meeting Among other business, M. Johnson, jr. was appointed to visit Supt.-Gastman and Principal Shepherd and arrange for the dismissal of school next Friday afternoon.

The "Search Light" hangers are all right. The manufacturers of the Search Light bicycle lamp have sent the club 2,000 circular badges to be distributed amall who will wear them. One side bears the announcement of the race meeting while the other advertises the bicycle lantern. They are already worn in great numbers and attract great attention.

The secretary has already received the entries of over 45 wheelmen, which is equivalent to nearly 200 participants, as many have entered two or three events.

This race is the first ever given by the Decatur club and should be well attended by all wheelmen and their friends. The club has now a membership of over 50, and it is predicted that before the snow flies, that number will greatly exceed 100.

The Bloomington bicycle club will entertain their friends next Sunday. There will be clubs from Peoria, Pekin, Clinton and Champaign, and it is expected that the Decatur Wheelmen's club will be represented.

THE STATE NORMAL.

Still Fighting About the Boodle—Mattoon's Kick.

SPRINGFIELD, ILL., Oct. 3.—In the Sangamon circuit court to-day arguments were completed in the quo warranto proceedings against the Trustees of the Eastern Illinois State Normal School, and the case was taken under advisement by Judge Shirley. Two cases are pending, one against State Superintendent of Public Instruction Inglis, to require him to show by what authority he acted as one of the trustees, and the other against all the trustees. In the former case it is contended that Supt. Inglis, being a state officer, cannot, under the constitution, hold another office, and that as he acted with the Board of Trustees as an ex officio member, the proceedings of the board are void. In the other case it is sought to oust all the trustees, on the ground that, having been appointed before the law creating the school went into effect they have no legal existence. It is expected that a decision will be rendered in a few days.
